

NAME: NNONA IFEYINWA DESTINY

REG NO: IMT/ESM/H2016/065

TOPIC: RURAL DEVELOPMENT: A MEANS OF COMBATING RURAL_URBAN MIGRATION IN NIGERIA

STATEMENT OF THE PROBLEM

Rural development (agrarian) is one of the major national economy enhancing the development of the sector, should be the priority of the government that relevant stakeholders. Rural sector should have been a contribution to the overall nation growth and development not only in urban areas. Government neglect the rural area which is the major index in nations economy as the evidence by the death of unemployment and basis amenities in the rural area such as good roads, well equipped and functional hospitals,electricity,pipe-borne water etc. Because of the difficult experience in getting daily need such as food, water and shelter, lack of basic life need in the rural area has made a number of rural dwellers migrate to urban centres with high of improving there standard of living. Government should try and amend this situation by reconstructing/reform the existing plan of an rural area and discourage rural-urban migration.

AIM OF THE STUDY

The aim of the study is to examine the impact of rural development on rural-urban migration.

OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDY

- To identify the precise designated distance between rural development and urban development by the government.
- To determine the enlargement and between rural -urban migration on rural development.
- To determine if rural development has a positive or negative effect on rural urban migration.
- To determine if rural urban migration development can be a punishment to rural development.

RESEARCH QUESTIONS

- What are the precise designated distance between rural development and urban development by the government.
- What are the entanglement between rural urban migration on rural development.
- What should be done to know if rural development has positive or negative effect on rural urban migration.
- What should be done to know if rural urban development can be a punishment to rural development.